Re: DOTCORN/Macedon Dog Agility Trial Photos taken on 5-16-08

We’ve edited this collection of photos down to the better images. We had a great time talking with everyone and are looking forward to hearing from you.

These are just PROOFS - they need cropping, artwork, etc. to enhance the image. We can update this link with an “order on line link” (and we will if there is an interest in doing that) BUT we prefer you call us to place your order so we can create a better finished portrait.

The size of our digital files are very large so we can crop in tightly on an image; eliminating some of the background, etc. as demonstrated by the photos below.

The “After” image has been cropped, the orange fence replaced with grass and we added a vignette.

1. The photos are in the order they were taken.
2. Most photos were taken in the 1st ring, the one closest to entrance.
3. These are UNCROPPED images without any enhancements.
4. You can scroll through the portraits quickly and click on the ones you want to see larger.
5. Call us with image(s) you want and any cropping or enhancement requests.

The following quote, by Laura Keefe, explains what we would like to do for everyone.

"It was our first agility trial. I was so happy when I finished the course and someone came up to me and said, "I got a real good shot of your dog over the final jump." A few days after the show, I was able to view the proofs on-line. I was pleased to see that they got several good shots of my dog. I called Karl Joyce at New Dimensions and discussed the possibility of making a composite photo. One week later Chris was working on it. Both Karl and Chris kept me informed of what they were working on both by phone and e-mail. After Chris e-mailed me a proof of the composite image he was working on, I suggested a few changes and he made them willingly. Within two weeks of my phone call to New Dimensions, I had a beautiful 16"X20" composite photo of my dog's very first agility trial hanging on my family room wall. The whole process was so easy. The staff of New Dimensions really made me feel that their most important goal was to create a photo that I would be pleased with, and they did!" -- Laura Keefe
